

“Too/Either” and “So/Neither”

Grammar > Intermediate 6

Exercise 1 – Learning

Too

Use 'too' in positive sentences to agree with something/someone, or to say that you perform the same action. We usually put 'too' at the end of a sentence.

Either

Use 'either' in negative sentences to disagree with something/someone, or to say that you also do not perform a certain action. We also put 'either' at the end of the sentence.

So

Use 'so' in a positive sense to show that you feel the same as the other person, or that you perform the same action. Place 'so' before a helping verb.

Nina cooks, and so does John.

Neither

Use 'neither' in a negative sense to show that you feel the same as the other person, or to say that you also do not perform a certain action. Place 'neither' before a helping verb.

Megan doesn't cook, and neither does David.
