

SV/SVO (Object Pronouns)

Grammar > Beginner 2

Exercise 1 – Learning

SV is a very basic sentence pattern in English:

Subject + Verb (SV)

Ex: "I cook", "She drinks", and "We play".

The subjects (I, she, we) do some action (cook, drink, play).

SVO is the most common sentence pattern in English:

Subject + Verb + Object (SVO)

Ex: "I cook dinner", "She drinks juice", and "We play tennis".

Sometimes we want to be more specific and say "I cook dinner", "She drinks juice", and "We play tennis". When we add these 'objects' to the sentences, we get a new sentence pattern – SVO.

Object Pronouns

We know Subject Pronouns like 'I,' 'he', and 'they'. Objects also have pronouns. We use object pronouns to replace objects:

- Lisa hates me.
- Lisa likes you.
- We know Peter. → We know him.
- We know Lisa. → We know her.
- She drinks juice. → She drinks it.
- I cook eggs. → I cook them.

Tip: 'You' and 'it' are the same as subject and object pronouns.
